FIG.13

Fig. 1 consists of two views: (a) a plan view and (b) a cross-sectional view. Both views show a rectangular assembly with a central rectangular chamber labeled E5. To the right of E5 are four smaller rectangular chambers labeled E1, E2, E3, and E4, arranged in a vertical column. The entire assembly is enclosed within a frame. In the plan view (a), dimensions A and B are indicated with arrows. Various components are labeled with reference numerals: 51, 52, 53, 54, 55, 53i, 53k, 53l, and 51d. The cross-sectional view (b) shows the internal structure and the relationship between the components, with additional labels 54a and 54b indicating specific internal features or layers.
